Introduction:

On 5th January 2024, MES Asmabi College organized a career guidance class focusing on CUET PG Orientation. The session was conducted by esteemed faculties from Aifer, including Mr. Rameez Isthikar, Mr. Amal P. Mohan, and Mr. AR, who are recognized as Academic Development Strategists. The event was coordinated by Ms. Mona V M from the Career Guidance and Placement Cell. The main objective of the session was to provide students with comprehensive guidance on the Common University Entrance Test for Postgraduate (CUET PG) admissions, ensuring they are well-prepared and informed about the process and requirements.

Session Details:

Ms. Mona V M opened the session with a welcome address, introducing the guest speakers and outlining the importance of CUET PG for postgraduate admissions. Mr. Rameez Isthikar began by providing an overview of the CUET PG, detailing its purpose, significance, and the role it plays in the admission process for postgraduate programs across various universities. Mr. Amal P. Mohan discussed the structure of the CUET PG examination, including the types of questions, subjects covered, and the scoring pattern. He emphasized the need for strategic preparation to excel in the test.

Drills in between the session

Mr. AR shared effective preparation strategies, highlighting the importance of time management, understanding the syllabus, and practicing with previous years' question papers. Tips on how to balance academic studies with entrance exam preparation were provided. The session included a discussion on various resources and study materials available for CUET PG preparation. Recommendations were made for books, online courses, and other supplementary materials that can aid in effective study. Detailed guidance on the application process for CUET PG was provided, including important dates, required documents, and common pitfalls to avoid during application submission.

Mr. Amal P Mohan talking about the importance of CUET-PG Exams

The session featured an interactive Q&A segment where students had the opportunity to ask questions and clarify their doubts about the CUET PG exam and preparation techniques. The speakers addressed individual queries, providing personalized advice and solutions. The faculties shared inspiring success stories of previous candidates who excelled in CUET PG and secured admissions in prestigious postgraduate programs. These stories served to motivate and encourage students to aim high and put in dedicated efforts.

Conclusion:

The session concluded with a vote of thanks by Ms. Mona V M, who expressed gratitude to the faculties of Aifer for their valuable insights and to the students for their active participation. The career guidance class successfully provided students with a thorough understanding of the CUET PG examination, equipping them with the knowledge and strategies needed to approach the test confidently. Students left the session feeling motivated and better prepared to tackle the challenges of postgraduate admissions.
